

2022 CKF Central Iaido Seminar & Shinsa

The CKF is committed to the safety of all participants and will observe all local and provincial guidelines. Please note these guidelines are subject to change and may include vaccination certificates, masks and social distancing to mitigate the risk of COVID during the event.

- All participants should be prepared to wear a mask that covers both the mouth and nose at all times while inside the venue.
- Change rooms will be available
- Please note that Capacity Limits will follow Provincial Guidelines and are subject to change. The current provincial guidelines will not limit the number of participants or spectators.
- Participants will be required to physically check-in at the registration desk prior to the event. As much pre-registration information as possible will be collected to limit the registration time.
- Sword checks will be performed prior to the grading
- Practice space for warm-up will be provided prior to the grading
